More than 2,900 Multiple-Choice Questions
for AFPAM 36-2241 (1 October 2013)

Our Guides Work!

The competition is tougher than ever — but that’s not stopping our customers from sewing on stripe after stripe, often years ahead of their peers.

To beat low selection rates, you must score well on your promotion exam. To score well, you must study. And our guides make studying easy and effective.

With our Multiple-Choice Questions, you can:

- ✓ Rely on our most popular study method.
- ✓ Prepare with questions similar to those you’ll see on your promotion exam.
- ✓ Quiz yourself rather than master extensive detail.
- ✓ Challenge yourself with thought-provoking distracters.

For study success, follow these tips:

- Select the answer that is most correct. Watch for distracters that are only partially correct.
- Read each question carefully. It often gives additional information or points you toward the right answer.
- If a distracter is false, figure out why — and what would make it true.
- Print more answer sheets at www.mcmguides.com/pdf.php.

Our books use easy-to-understand language — the hallmark of McMillan Study Guides. Chapter sub-headings logically organize the information, and page references point you to the right spot in the PDG.

Today’s Airman must absorb a wealth of information, and record-low promotion rates make competition even tougher. Mastering the PDG has never been more important. Don’t sell yourself short — your determination and our comprehensive, proven study guides are the keys to your next promotion.

Let us know when you sew on your stripe. We celebrate your success and salute your dedication and service to our country.

Are You Ready To Test?
